Outstanding service and an excellent value

FAST SERVICE: Whether you need next year's entire program series planned, want to book a dynamic presenter for an annual function, or need a last-minute fill-in for a speaker who cancelled, ON DEMAND is happy to help. Hire us on a retainer or call us in a pinch. In either case, we'll search our extensive database of speakers, presenters, and performers and arrange what you need...often within a day or two.

REASONABLE PRICES: Over the years, we've developed a network of connections and the solid relationships that make it possible for us to negotiate affordable pricing with our speakers and talent. So we can work within your budget.

SATISFACTION GUARANTEED: We've served a wide variety of satisfied clients—from corporations and nonprofits to community and social organizations. Here are just a few:

- The Peace Center of Bucks County, PA
- Practical Nursing Department of Bucks County Community College
- Kol Emet Jewish Center
- The NAACP
- The United Way of Bucks County
- Pebble Hill Interfaith Church

Natalie has been instrumental in enriching the culture of Bucks County by making available many artists, performers, and authors through the programs she offers at the Women's Center and through the Lecture Bridge Series provided by the Bucks County Commissioners' Advisory Council for Women and the college. Natalie has played a major role in making Bucks County Community College a center for performing arts, bringing top Broadway talent last year and bringing in best-selling authors such as Gail Sheehy.

Providing one or all of the services you need

- Consulting with you to produce a successful event
- Finding a venue
- Custom-tailoring a roster of speakers/talent to your needs
- Booking and paying talent and speakers
- Coordinating the presenters' AV needs, handouts, etc.
- Providing a myriad of talent and topics

SPEAKERS: Our speakers and trainers include national, regional, and local authors, coaches, holistic practitioners, marketing/sales gurus, medical doctors, psychologists, grief counselors, nutritionists, and more. They can address just about any topic you have in mind, including:

- conflict resolution
- increasing productivity and sales
- stress reduction
- human resources management
- women's issues
- healthy living
- complementary therapies
- self-esteem
- effective parenting
- issues of aging

PERFORMERS: Our database includes Broadway singers, songwriters, storytellers, poets, puppeteers, clowns, and choral groups. We also know dance troupes, jazz musicians, and chamber groups...virtually any kind of entertainer you want. In addition, we work with Hollywood actresses who present dynamic one-woman shows on a variety of inspiring topics.

Natalie Kaye sees "the big picture" when it comes to event planning! She provides the perfect formula for success through her connections in the community, networking skills and ability to connect you with the best speaker, facilitator, or performer for your event. Natalie brings experience and extraordinary enthusiasm to infuse your event with the energy needed for success!

Natalie Joy Kaye

Founder and President Natalie Kaye has been involved in the planning, management, and production of conferences, trade shows, seminars, and workshops for over 30 years. She began her career as a top-ranking salesperson for Fortune 500 corporations such as Merck, GE, Arco, and DuPont. Over the years, she's created a variety of high-quality events, including pharmaceutical symposia, conferences on new technologies, product-launch seminars, computer user forums, educational retreats, fund-raising dinners, galas, auctions, and more.

Recent success stories

In 2008, ON DEMAND Programs and Events coordinated a number of programs that met or exceeded client expectations:

- 1-day motivational/educational event for a nurses group at Bucks County Community College. In less than 3 hours, 5 speakers were booked, and event details were finalized. The college reported that all the speakers were well received, and the nurses were motivated to achieve their goals.
- A Day for All Women, Bucks County Community College: As chairwoman of this annual event for 5 years, Natalie contacted and scheduled a wide variety of keynote speakers and seminar presenters addressing an impressive array of topics designed to educate, empower, and inspire women of all ages. Each year, the event attracted hundreds of women throughout the region.

If you looked in Webster's under "Perfect Event Planner," Natalie's name and picture would be there. She has an amazing network and is excellently skilled at finding the perfect speaker to get the job done.
